

AMCOA Meeting Agenda

Friday, February 7, 2025

Remote Via Zoom

10:00AM – 11:30AM

You may recall I sent out an email in early September to inform you of this new article that had just been released entitled: Enhancing Qualitative Research in Higher Education Assessment through Generative AI Integration. The article was published in New Directions for Teaching and Learning (Wiley Periodicals, 2024).

I believe we should honor this scholarship and utilize it to continue to learn from our peers about such a timely subject as qualitative research in assessment using Generative AI. Their presentation and Q&A/discussion will occur from 10am - 11am.

We will also hear the updates on the regional professional day planning that has happened in each of the five regions since our November meeting and any other business (11-11:30am). Each region has developed great professional development and identified an excellent speaker(s) to present the topics and to facilitate the learning. It's all very exciting!! So, see you on Friday! Don't miss this one!

Robert Awkward is inviting you to a scheduled Zoom meeting.
